Program of The Teachers' Institute

COIT-NIELSEN LYCEUM BUREAU WILL FURNISH A ROARING COMPANY OF ENTERTAINERS—THE RONDOLIERS, FRANK GLENN, THE LEITER LIGHT OPERA COMPANY—BIG TIME FOR ALL.

The 1920 institute of the teachers of McKean Co. will begin Monday afternoon at 1:30 in the Court House. Superintendent of Schools Lillibridge, who is in charge of the institute, has worked out the program of the various sessions of the work and the MINER is printing.

It should be understood that the public at large is most cordially welcome at these sessions and it is certain that all who will be able to attend will find something both of interest and of profit in the exercises. The instructors this year, as explained in last week's MINER, are all men of national fame and will bring messages of each merit. None of the addresses will be of a technical nature, the aim of the whole institute being inspirational.

Special attention should be drawn to the evening entertainments which are being supplied by the Coit-Nielsen Lyceum Bureau. With the exception ception of the address Monday evening, which will be in the Court House all the evening programs will take place in the Lyceum.

Mr. Lillibridge has decided to provide a lecture by Dr. Driver of the State Department of Education at Harrisburg, to fill the opening on Monday evening. Dr. Driver is described as a speaker of great force and his important position or head of the State Department in charge of the rural schools will enable him to bring a rich experience, and a great store of valuable information to his work here.

Tuesday evening the Rondoliers, one of the very best of the Lyceum musical troupes, will present their program in the Lyceum. This organization consists of five artists—three women and two men—all of them able to play a number of instruments. Among other things which they present there will be a trumpet quintet, a saxophone trio, several ensemble orchestra selections, violin solos, piano solos, readings, and vocal solos, all of them of the finest order and proven favorites throughout the country.

Wednesday night Glenn Frank will be here. Something was said last week of the prominence of this man as the present editor of the Century Magazine and former acting president of Northwestern University, and also something of the real privilege offered in this opportunity to hear him. Coming now as he does in the middle of the presidential campaign with its strife about the league of nations, it will be decidedly worth while to hear Mr. Frank, one of teh first men in the country to look into such a possibility as an association of nations. His words should shed a world of light on this much-discusesd problem.

The Leiter Light Opera Company, one of the finest organizations of its type in platform work, are on the program for Thursday evening. The personnel of the troupe is Miss Martha Cook, hailed throughout the country as a real artist, the soprano; Miss Hazel Huntley, a noted contralto; Mr. Jos. Kendrick a famous Chicago tenor; Mr. Clayton Quayle, baritone, and Mr. Harrison Burch, pianist. The members of the Leiter Opera Company have unusual voices, their ensemble work reached the highest state of perfection, and their elaborate costuming adds much to the charm of their program.

Local Dentist Honored By Government

Dr. C. R. Long was signally honored last week by receiving from the government at Washington a very important appointment as county denal officer in charge of the work among ex-service men.

Requested some time ago by the War Department to undertakse this work, Dr. Long submitted to an examination which he passed with great credit. Anaouncement of his appointment reached him last week and he immediately entered upon the discharge of his new duties.

This appointment may be interpreted as a district compliment to Dr. Long on both the character of his work and his own personal reputation since it involves a considerable degree of responsibility which the government could entrust only to a person with the high qualification possessed by Dr. Long.

Ex-service men will be particularly interested in learning that the county has such an officer. The War Department has instructed Dr. Long to perform free of charge to all ex-service men within McKean Co. and dental work of any kind which is made necessary by reason of war service.

Such ex-service men are expected to apply to Dr. Long for an examination and if in his opinion the trouble found had its origin while the individual was in the army, navy or marine corps, any necessary work will be done free of charge. Already one former soldier from Turtle Point has received treatment in accordance with these conditions and there are undoubtedly many others to whom his announcement will be welcome news.

REV. NOBLE I. MACK HAS CLOSE CALL

The Rev. Noble I. Mack had a close call from what might easily have been a very serious accident last Saturday. He had carried a basket of papers out to the burn-pile in the rear of his home had lit the papers and was standing watching when there was the sound of an explosion fully as loud, he says, as the report of a revolver shot.

Painful cuts were inflicted in at least ten parts of the body by particles of the material that exploded, but by only the rarest of good fortune none were serious. Just what was the cause of the explosion, it is impossible to say as Mr. Mack does not recall having put anything of an explosive nature in the basket or having seen any such substance when he emptied the papers out.

THE METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH

A meeting of the official board was held in the church basement the night of October 18. The members of the various committees were elected, and everything set in order for this conference year. The financial report, presented by the efficient treasurer, Mr. Bengs, was the best in the history of the church. Not only were the current expenses adequately cared for, but the benevolent offerings exceeded by several hundred per cent the amounts forwarded in previous yars. Forward-looking plans were discussed, and a committee was appointed to tackle in dead earnest the debt on the basement. A whirlwind campaign will be launched sometime during the winter, when it is hoped the last cent will be raised.

The people of Smethport will have got over their annual attack of "sum meriits," and it is to be expected that from now on (at least until the birds return north again) they will be faithful attenders of the House of God Sermon subject next Sunday morning, "Some Grounds for Confidence."

High School Ties With Coudersport

Fourth Game of the Season a Very Close Contest

Coudersport's high hopes and plans for a crushing defeat to the Smethport high school football team to repay their one-sided loss here two weeks ago, went a-glimmering last Saturday when the play of the local boys forced them to be content with a tie score of 7-7.

This game is virtually another victory for the Smethport boys since they went into the game without their regular line-up and played the game on the Coudersport field where the rooting and the crowd was all against them and represented a handicap of fully two touchdowns against them in scoring. To anyone who has watched the two teams in play here can be little doubt of the superiority of the Smethport team, and the points scored by each are indicative of this fact, as the Potter County team has scored out 28 as against 46.

The usual lack of fight in the first half of the game which has characterized the play of the local boys in every game this year, was again in evidence at Coudersport. It seems that it takes a touchdown or two against them to make them fight in Saturday's game the something that was radically wrong in the first two periods and which permitted Coudersport to score in the first half, disappeared in the later two periods, notably the third, giving place to the fighting spirit that shoved the ball over for Smethport's touchdown.

Spencer Coudersport captain and right half, was the star of the game; in spite of the fact that he went into the play with a badly wrenched knee, which he sustained here last week, his running with the ball was easily the outstanding feature of the game for either side.

As was expected, Smethport was again forced to rely on the forward pass route for most of its ground gaining. In this connection the absence of William Gallup from the line-up, due to a cracked shoulder blade, was especially felt, for none of the remaining backs have the ability to pass the ball so far or so accurately. However, the Coudersport lads were kept considerably more than busy watching Allison, Coyllostro, Curran, Warner and Monheimer in the unmerous clever pass plays which the boys have on their list.

The game taken altogether was about the tightest that the boys have been up against yet this year. In the third and fourth quarters, for instance, the ball four times changed hands from the possession of the one team to that of the other in the center of the field, when neither team was able to make first down. Both sides put up strong defensive work at critical times, and only the breaks of the game prevented scoring a number of times.

In the first quarter the Coudersport boys rushed the ball down to Smethport's one-yard line only to lose it when four downs failed to carry it over the line. Smethport then took the ball, rushed to within fifteen yards of the other goal, and there lost it on an intercepted pass. Up and down the field the two teams went worrying the ball like a dog with a bone.

Coudersport's one touchdown came in the second quarter as the result of repeated use of their four plays, the same as were used here two weeks ago—mass plays with a shift of the line directed off-tackle and around end on both sides of the line. Spencer carried the ball over for the score.

Big Crowd at Court House Thurs. Night

Mrs. Jno. Miller of Pittsburgh Spoke to a Large Audience Last Thursday Evening.

Thursday night's meeting in the Court House called under the auspices of the League of Women Voters, was well attended, the large room being being fairly well filled. A number of men in addition to the newly-enfranchised women, made good their opportunity to hear Mrs. John Miller of Pittsburgh, in regard to the revision of the state constitution.

Mrs. Miller was admirably qualified to speak on this subject in as much as she is a member of the committee of 25 appointed by Governor Sproul to examine the state constitution with a view to preparing recommendation for its revising at the next constitutional assembly. Being thus officially connected with this work, Mrs. Miller spoke with real authority regarding the points that must be covered in the proposed changes.

Her discourse was clear and forceful and was crammed with information of real moment. Having been obtained from the heads of the various state departments, the facts which she stated were indisputable.

She described in an interesting manner the method of procedure followed by the committee of twenty-five in every case the person in charge of a department specified by the constitution, was called before the committee and carefully questioned as to his opinion regarding the needs of the state for the greater efficiency if he work under his charge. His recommendations were then made the bases of further investigation and study and ended in the formulation of a program of suggested legislation.

After Mrs. Miller's set speech, she agreed o answer to the best of her ability any question along this line in the minds of her audience. Sharp debate followed on several points, all of which tended to a better understanding and appreciation of the needs of Pennsylvania.

INTERESTING ADDRESS

On Thursday afternoon at St. Luke's Parish House, Mrs. John O. Miller gave a talk on the Women's League, and what it expects to accomplish.

These are the five selected measures:

1. Mandatory law for at least two women on every school board in the state.

2. A bill to provide adequate salaries for teachers.

3. Increased appropriation for mothers' association fund.

4. A reconstruction of the state government in the interest of efficiency and economy.

5. The adoption of a suitable budget for the state.

She showed why every woman should wish to vote, for the government of her country affects every vital interest of her life.

Whether her family shall have pure water proper schooling, sanitary school houses and dozens of other advantages depends on her government, so she can hardly fail to be interested in it.

Mrs. Miller is a very entertaining and convincing speaker and kept the attention of her hearers from start to finish.

Before the address, Mrs. John Cather sang "To Be Near You," and at its close "The Love Nest" from the musical comedy, "Mary." Mrs. Cather sang in her usual pleasing manner.

Woodmen Had Large Initiation

Woodmen of America From Surrounding Towns Attended—About 65 Were Initiated—Big Feed and Good Time For All.

The meeting of the Modern Woodmen of America for which elaborate plans had been made, lined up fully to every expectation last Thursday evening when the Odd Fellows' Hall was crowded with fully 300 visiting members of the fraternity, and a class of about 65 was initiated.

Lodges of Woodmen for miles around sent delegations to Smethport's big night, coming from adjoining counties as well as from organizations from within the limits of McKean. The Bradford lodge sent its degree team which made a fine showing.

Music was furnished by an orchestra made up of members of the Allied band, whose efforts in this impromptu appearance were greatly enjoyed.

Mrs. J. A. Lindholm served a delightful dinner.

The Smethport encampment, as the result of the one big night, and the initiation of the large class, is now among the most flourishing in this corner of the state.

Bucktail Minstrels to Be Staged at Austin

We understand that next month the score or more of clever performers who put on the Bucktail Minstrels with such success here last fall, under the leadership of William P. Mitchell, are to journey to Austin to stage a performance there in the New Community House.

More definite announcement can be made later, but the first practice is scheduled for tonight (Thursday) in the Parish House, and the matter will be taken up more carefully then.

No Game Last Sunday

Manager Cunningham of Rixford and Clark of the local baseball team were unable to reach mutually agreeable terms for another battle on the diamond so that Smethport fans last Sunday were forced to forego their usual afternoon's sport.

It seems that the oil-men are still swarting from the memory of their loss in the last game played between the two teams here when they failed to bring enough extra outside help to match the talent Manager Clark sent against them in the four Elcos. This game will be remembered as about the best of the past season.

Early last week Manager Cunningham telephoned repeatedly in the hope of inticing Smethport into another game with the intention himself of hiring the best money could buy. His best offer, however, was not good enough—namely, $100 to Smethport with the game to be played at Bradford. In as much as this would not by any means pay expenses, Manager Clark felt justified in refusing to meet Rixford, offering, however, a liberal guarantee or the oil-men to come here. This being unsatisfactory to Rixford, the game was declared off.

With the approach of the important fall election, the Republicans of McKean County, are putting forth every effort to get out the entire Republican vote of the county. Now that it is a foregoing conclusion that Harding and Coolidge, the Republican candidates for President and Vice President, will be elected, the big fight is being put forth to give the largest possible majority to the Congressional, Senatorial and Legislative candidates.

For Congress, Honorable Evan, J. Jones, of Bradford who faithfully represented this distrect in the last session, is a candidate for re-election, and is opposed by a candidate from Clearfield, the largest county in the Congressional district. To make sure of Mr. Jones' success, every voter of Mckean county should go to the polls on November 2nd and assist in returing him to office. The ability and worth of Mr. Jones is appreciated in every section of the twenty-first Congressional district, and his painstaking attentoin to even the smallest details in matters affecting his constituency is the subject of much favorable comment. In being made a member of the important Interstate and foreign Comerce Committee during his first term, Congressman Jones has become a National figure, and his retention in Congress will surely be of untold benefit to our Country and our Congressional district in the future.

For the first time in history the twenty-fifth Senatorial district of which McKean County is a portion, will by the re-election of Honorable Frank E. Baldwin, of Austin, Potter county, give to the Commonwealth a president pro-tem of the State Senate. Senator Baldwin's four year term has demonstrated that few Senatorial districts in Pennsylvania are represented as is the twenty-fifth. Ever alert as to the wishes and needs of the people of Mckean county, Senator Baldwin has made himself immensely popular and is assured of the heartiest support that this county can give. As president pro-tem of the Senatorial body, great power will be vested with Senator Baldwin, which will inure to the benefit of his district. Senator Baldwin is a native of Mckean county.

By returning Honorable John A. Fitzgibbons, of Bradford, and Honorable Charles W. Catlin, of Port Allegany, to the Assembly Mckean county has the opportunity of maintaining a solid delegation of seasoned members in the Legislature. Both Mr. Fitzgibbons and Mr. Catlin have been tried and been found to give Mckean county such representation as it never before enjoyed. Both are young men who are constantly alert and on the job, and both are deserving of another term in office.

Law of Governments Self-Preservation the First

Washington, Ost. 21. That Senator Harding's stand on the pardoning of prisoners convicted of crimes against the government has greatly strengthened him, is the opinion of the Republican Publicity Association, through its President, Hon. Jonathan Bourne, Jr.:

"In none of his other utterances has Senator Harding commended himself more strongly to the good sense of American people than in his remarks at Omaha on the subject of a proposed 'general amnesty to political prisoners.' Said Senator Harding, 'I have been asked many times during this campaign whether I would grant general amnesty, as it is called, to political pirsoners. My answer, I trust, is clear. I would not.'

"On this as on other subjects, Harding goes straight to the point and is unevasive. He makes no bid for the I.W.W. vote. He holds out no hope to the anarchist. He gives no slightest encouragement to the seditionist. He is for enforcement of law founded upon justice and perpetuation of orderly government.

"Mr. Harding's statement is not a declaration that he favors punishment of all who may be imprisoned on charge of crime against the government. He specifically says, 'If there are political prisoners who are being punished unjustly,... I shall want to take immediate action to retore justice to such shall want to take immdiatee action to restore justice to such men and women precisely as I will wish to give freedom to any man or woman who has been unjustly accused of ordinary crime.'

"'Political prisoners' and 'general amnesty' are terms which the enemies of American government have been using to mislead people unfamiliar with the facts. There is no such thing as a 'political prisoner' under the laws of the United States and the jurisdiction of our courts. Clever propagandists have used the team in such a manner as to convey the impression that there are such prisoners in the same sense that men and women were made political prisoners in Russia. Probably not many people were deceived. It is true that under the present administration of the Department of Justice, it has been charged that men have been arrested on inadequate evidence and held indefinitely instead of being accorded that speedy trial which they are guaranteed by our Federal Constitution. If there are any such prisoners, they are held in violation of law, and will be given relief under Senator Harding's pledge to 'take immediate action to restore justice' as in any other case.

"Self preservation is the first law of nature. It is also the first law of governments. Unless the government be preserved, no personal or property right can be safe from the aggressions of combiend greed and brute power.

"There is not now nor has there ever been any disposition to hinder any man who proposes a change in our form of government in the manner prescribed—by amendment of the Constitution. But there is and will continue to be a demand for the punishment of men who try to overthrow the government by forcible resistance to its laws or by violence of any kind. Probably the most thorough, comprehensive and specific measure designed to meet that demand is the Poindexter sedition bill, still pending in the Senate. That bill makes it a felony to advocate, aid or abet forcible resistance to or forcible destruction of constituted government in general or of the government of the United States, its laws, authority, agents or officials, or the governments of the states, municipalities or other constituted authorities within the United States. The measure porvides further specifications for the punishment of advocacy of the use of force in defiance of law. With that measure on the statute books, no attorney general will ever plea dinadequacy of law as an excuse for failure to apprehend and convict seditionists, and yet under that measure no man could be convicted unless he were an enemy of government and of law and order.

"With Harding in the White House and a working Republican majority in both Houses of Congress, justice will be assured to all, but there will be no mercy for the man who commits the greatest crime of all—that of endeavoring to overthrow the govenremat itself."

GASOLINE TURNS THE EARTH

Motorboats Are Replacing Gondolas in Venice, and Even the Windmills in Holland Disappear.

Motorboats in Venice, replacing the gondolas are not the only mechanical profanation that is coming in to disappoint future American travelers in Europe. A letter from Amsterdam tells us that the Dutch windmills are being replaced by mills operated by steam and electric power. Every year some of the old windmills are burned, and they are not re-erected. Time may come when a few windmills will be treasured as relics in Holland; just as similar structures are still preserved on Aquidneck and Nantucket islands for their curious interest, says the Boston Transcript. Already windmills of American construction, with steel fans arranged in wheels, instead of the picturesque old wooden arms, had begun to make their appearance, even in Holland. The metallic windmill with the revolving wheel, is more picturesque than the ordinary steam or water power mill, but it is not so picturesque as the old wooden affairs. On our western prairies and plains the tall windmills, with their big metal wheels spinning high in the air, are indeed a fine feature in the monotonous landscape, but even they are in danger of yielding to the process of pumping water by means of gasoline motors. The power of the wind, to be sure, costs nothing, while that of the gasoline motor may cost a good deal, but there are times when no wind blows, and the householder tires of waiting for it to rise. Less and less we are content to attend upon forces of nature. The beautiful sails are vanishing from the seas, to be replaced by belching smokestacks. On land windmills give place to structures operated by steam and electricity. The stalwart oxen are no longer seen at the farmer's plow; it is gasoline that turns the earth now. Homeward the weary motor barks its way!

Alumni in Movement for Expansion of Holy Cross

WITH Holy Cross College, one of the oldest institutions of higher education in New England, closing its doors to scores of students every year because of inability to make room for them, alumni and former students of the college are sponsoring a movement for the expansion of the school by the erection of five new buildings on the campus at Worcester, Mass.

The movement took form at a reunion of alumni and former students at the college Labor Day. A realization of the crisis faced by the school came when it was learned that hallways now are being used as classrooms, dormitories are crowded to the limit of comfort, not a room in the college is large enough to hold its student body assembled, and last July it was necessary to halt enrollments for the coming term. With this knowledge, the former students decided upon "action" today for an expansion of the college.

[illegible] dormitory, a [illegible] lecture hall, an assembly [illegible] dining hall, an administration building and a new chapel are the [illegible] projected improvements. The additions will permit the college to increase its yearly enrollment [illegible] to 1,000.

Holy Cross College was founded in 1843 and has grown steadily since that date. It has sought from the start to keep its doors open at all times to the youth of meager means. Although most colleges and universities have been forced, because of increased costs and advances in salaries of faculty members, to increase their tuition fees, in some cases to $1,000 and $1,200, Holy Cross has kept its combined tuition and boarding fee at $400. This is largely due to the fact that its faculty serves without pay.

FATHER CARLIN, PRESIDENT of HOLY CROSS

The stress placed by educators on the menace to the entire system of Christian education in just such crises as that faced by Holy Cross also has spurred the college's alumni to take definite action looking to an extension of the moral training carried on at the school. Alumni organizations throughout the country have endorsed the movement and plans for the expansion are rapidly taking form.

DO YO KNOW WHAT IS THE MATTER?

When You Feel Out of Sorts and See Things with a Dull Eye

LOOK TO YOUR BLOOD

Pale Complexions, Languid Feelings, Lowered Vitality Need More Red Blood. Take Pepto-Mangan

So many people spend week after week feeling down and out. They never stop to think that something really is the matter. They satisfy themselves by saying, "Oh, I'm not sick. I'll be all right tomorrow."

And tomorrow comes again and again. Still they feel depressed and languid, scarcely able to get around.

If you don't feel like yourself, you are not yourself. If you are weak and pale, your blood needs strengthening. You should konw about Petro-Mangan, that famous blood tonic Physicians recommend it and prescribe it because it contains just the ingredients needed to make red blood. It renews your energy, puts you where you ought to be. Begin with it today. Get the tablets if they will be more convenient to take than the liquid. Both have the same medicinal properties. But be sure you get the genuine Petro-Mangan. Ask for "Gude's" and be sure that the full name, "Gude's Peptro-Mangan," is on the package. adv43w1

SUN BIG FACTOR IN DRYING CORN

Dried Vegetable Is Delicious, Requires No Cans and Is Easy to Keep Stored.

QUICK WORK IS NECESSARY

Gather When Kernels Are in Milk Stage, Before Glazing Has Begun —Dry Until Grains Are Hard and Semi-Transparent.

A vegetable which, when dried, is above criticism even by the most critical, is corn. Other kinds of garden products may or may not be liked by many people, but dried corn is the equal if not the superior of canned corn and can be used for practically as wide a variety of purposes. The following directions for drying it are those advised by the United States department of agriculture.

Any of the varieties of sweet corn having qualities desirable for table use will make a good dried product. Corn intended for drying should be gathered when in the milk stage, before glazing and hardening have begun and when the corn is in an ideal condition for immediate table use. It should be gathered only as it can be prepared for drying, as corn deteriorates rapidly.

Careful Preparation Essential.

Husk the ears and trim with a knife to remove any injuries. The silk need not be removed, as it can be readily separated from the corn after drying. Place the ears in wire baskets or wire-bottom boxes and plunge into boiling water for 8 to 12 minutes, or until the milk is set. A little salt may be added to the water if desired. Divide the corn into older and younger lots before blanching, as the younger ears require somewhat longer cooking than the older ones.

After cooking, remove corn from the water, allow it to drain and cool sufficiently to be handled and cut from the cobs with a strong, sharp knife, taking care that none of the cob is removed with the kernels. The glumes or the hull attachments at the tip of the grains are easily screened out after the corn becomes dry. Spread the kernels upon trays to a depth of one inch if drying is done in a drier, or one-eighth to five-eighths inch if the corn is to be dried in the sun. Stir the grains thoroughly several times during the drying to break up any compact masses.

Sun Factor in Drying Corn.

It is practically impossible to bring corn to a sufficient degree of dryness by the unaided heat of the sun. If corn is dried in the sun it should be finished by pouring into bread pans, placing in the oven of the stove, and warming to 100 degrees to 165 degrees F. for two hours. Whether the drying is done in the sun, in a cook-stove drier, or in a commercial drier, it should be continued until the grains are hard, semi-transparent, and will break with clean, glass-like fractures if crushed.

Before storing free the corn of silks, glumes, and bits of cob. This may be done by pouring the corn from one vessel to another in a strong draft. When the corn is dry, store in closely woven muslin bags or heavy paper bags. Tie tightly at the neck and place within a large bag, which also should be tightly tied.

Do not allow the drying process to stop from the time it is started until the corn is fairly dry. Corn is a product which contains considerable sugar and protein, and if the drying process is allowed to stop bacteria are apt to develop and souring take place. Protect it from insects. If sun drying is interrupted by cloudy weather or showers, remove corn to the stove and continue drying or the product may spoil.

For Shampooing Hair.

If you have oily hair, try, when shampooing it, the juice of one lemon instead of soap. Lemon cleans the hair and scalp perfectly and it cuts the oil.

Improve Coffee Flavor.

When making coffee sprinkle a little salt on the coffee before pouring on boiling water, and the flavor will be wonderfully improved.

PUBLIC OPPOSES GOV'T OPERATION

Canvass of 5,154 Editors Shows 4,466 Communities Against Socialistic Experiment.

OPPOSITION GROWING

Eighty-seven Per Cent in 1920 as Against 83 Per Cent in 1919 Think Public Is Opposed to Radicalism.

The American public is more intensely opposed to Government operation than it was a year ago, according to the newspaper editors of the country. Out of 5,154 editors replying to a questionnaire sent out by the Press Service Company of New York, 4,466, or 86 per cent, gave it as their judgment that the people of their communities were overwhelmingly against the Government competing in business with its own citizens.

In 1919 the Press Service Company conducted a similar canvass of editors on the government operation of railroads. That questionnaire showed that 83 per cent of the editors considered their communities against Government operation of public utilities.

Apparently, then, if editors estimate public opinion accurately, that opinion in a year, considered by communities, has swung 3 per cent farther away from socialistic experiments.

Eleven Million Circulation.

The combined circulation of the papers whose editors replied is 11,423,817, which means, according to the usual estimated ratio between circulation and readers, a constituency of at least 44,000,000. And this constituency is pretty evenly scattered throughout the country, no considerable section of any state being unrepresented. The estimate of opinion based on this thoroughly diffused 44 per cent of the country's population may, therefore, be considered a fair representation of the people as a whole.

Another feature of the result is its evident lack of partisan bias. The major political affiliations of the papers represented are fairly evenly divided, being 1,857 Republican and 1,350 Democratic. There are also 1,482 independent and 402 miscellaneous, including labor organs, etc.

How little the results are affected by the politics of the papers is shown in an analysis by sections. In the Southern section, for instance, where replies came from 65 Republican papers and 389 Democratic, the percentage against Government operation was 68; in the Great Lake section, with conditions reversed, 478 Republican and 155 Democratic, the opposition was 87 per cent.

Replies from the West, Middle West and Southwest show that it is a mistake to consider those sections vastly more favorable to radical Government experiments than the East. The radicals can get little comfort out of the 89 per cent of thumbs down—2 per cent above the average—in the Southwest, including Arkansas, Louisiana, Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas. Texas, once supposed to be much given to Government regulation experiments, returned 92 per cent of unfavorable replies. Out of the 244 editors replying from that state only three edited Republican papers. The 82 per cent opposition of the Northwest, including Iowa, Minnesota, Montana, Nebraska, North Dakota, South Dakota and Wyoming, and the 88 per cent veto of the Far West group, including Arizona, California, Idaho, Nevada, New Mexico, Oregon, Colorado, Utah and Washington, are significant of the prevailing conservative sentiment on this question even in the more radical sections.

Judgment Apparently Unbiased.

The questionnaire closes with a request for the editor's personal opinion on certain concrete cases as follows:

"Do you personally believe that the Federal Government should own and operate competitive industries to provide: (a) Fertilizer? (b) Clothing? (c) Automobiles? (d) Farm implements? (e) Foodstuffs?

Substantially all the editors who gave estimates of their readers' opinions also expressed their own by replying to this last question. Proof of considerable effort to avoid personal bias is found in the fact that in many cases the editor differed from the opinion he credited to his community. The percentage of "nos" ran: (a) 76; (b) 83; (c) 86; (d) 82; (e) 79.

While the questions were based on general principles involved in the Government participating in competitive business, the so-called Muscle Shoals Bill now before Congress was used as a concrete example of a Government operation scheme. Under this bill a Government-owned corporation would be given broad powers to operate and develop Government plants and properties. It would produce at Muscle Shoals various fertilizer products and sell them in competition with producers and merchants in the fertilizer business.

The strength of the opposition to Government operation is indicated by the replies from Alabama, where the Muscle Shoals war plant is and where, of course, there is intense interest and local pride in getting its expected peace-time operation under way at the earliest possible date. Fifty editors from that state replied, of whom 88 were opposed to Government operation, 8 in favor and 4 doubtful.

GOV'T OPERATION OUT OF POLITICS

Party Leaders Convinced by Results of National Canvass of Editors.

VINDICATES FORMER POLL.

Overwhelming Vote Like That of Year Before From Both Sides of Political Fence.

Washington.—Inner circles of both political parties here are greatly interested in the results of a national poll on the question of government operation among over 5,000 newspaper editors throughout the country. With 86 per cent of these editors, regardless of political faith, giving it as their impartial opinion that the public is more than ever opposed to the government going into business in competition with its citizens, observers here see little chance that either political party will find it a profitable campaign issue.

In the opinion of party leaders this sort of a canvass among newspaper editors is the best possible index of public opinion. They recall a similar questionnaire sent out a year ago in connection with the proposition that the government take over the railroads permanently. Replies at that time from approximately the same number of editors showed 83 per cent against the principle of government operation. They recall also that within ten days from publication of the result of the former questionnaire the sentiment for return of the railroads to their owners had definitely crystallized.

Comparison of present results in detail with those of a year ago convinces the political student not only that these editors have been accurate in their judgment, but that party considerations played no part in forming it. From Democratic and supposedly radical Texas, for example, the present questionnaire brought replies from editors of 244 papers, only three of which are Republican. Yet the percentage against government operation was 92, which is exactly the same as that given by 200 editors from Republican Michigan, among whom were representatives of only three Democratic papers. Other states that pair percentages significantly are Massachusetts and Nevada, with 100; Connecticut and South Carolina, with 97; Maine and West Virginia, with 96; Kentucky and New York, with 91; Missouri and Pennsylvania, with 89; Ohio and Oklahoma, with 87.

The result of the present poll as to government operation in each state are graphically shown by the following chart:

Does Your Letterhead Get It?

The appearance of your letterhead may mean success or failure. Do yourself justice in the quality of your business messenger.

We do not advocate extravagance. We recommend the use of a very moderate priced standard paper —

HAMMERMILL BOND

—which has won recognition for its quality and the service it gives. We are prepared to furnish that paper and to print you a letterhead that is a dignified representative.

The Means to an End of Waste Space

A few panels of Beaver Board, a little wood trim, a hammer, nails and saw—all you need to cover up old cracked plaster and wallpaper and put new life into any part of the house.

Beaver Board plays a major part in this worthwhile operation. While it is covering up unsightly cracks and dingy wallpaper it is providing a surface for painting and decorating, and ending the wall and ceiling question once and for all time.

Beaver Board is built up into large flawless panels from strong, pure wood fibres. When you have lived with it you will know why it is displacing lath and plaster in new houses and putting new life into old ones.

some credit for the local touchdown, which came in the third quarter, for they maintain they pushed the ball over with their encouraging yells and shouts from the side-lines. However, there is no doubt but that the team itself was working with a determination that they would score then and there at no matter what cost to Coudersport's lighter team. And do it they did, carrying the ball 70 yards on six plays, and then shoving it over on an end-run by Allison. To perform this little stunt two Coudersport players were laid out for Smethport had an enjoyment scheduled under their opponents' goal posts and kept it. Karlan kicked goal.

The Smethport line-up was the same that has started the last two games with the exception that Coyliostro was at full-back and Cramer at end. The two substitutions were Peeler for McCarty and Cochran for Cramer. No special mention is made of any one player, because all played well and fought hard, and special mention of any would be unfair to the rest.

FOOTBALL TEAM AT PORTVILLE NEXT SATURDAY, OCT. 23

Next Saturday will find the high school football team at Portville where they will play the team there the second of the series of two games. It will be remember that Portville lost out here three weeks ago by a score of 32-13, in a rather one sided game, but the boys have heard that their opponents have been having considerable good practice and since then have met and defeated no less than the Eldred team 19-0. Consequently they confidently expect to have their hands full.

The trip to Coudersport last week was rendered both pleasant and economical for the boys by the fact that they had to hire but a single car, as two interested car-owners furnished transportation for the rest. The thanks of the boys is extended sincerely to Mr. Guy McCoy and Mr. F.D. Gallup, who were the two generous individuals.

It is pretty expensive proposition for the high school to undertake so expensive a sport as football on account of the high cost of equipment, the large guarantees which must be paid, and the expensiveness of the trips to other town; consequently the team is more pleased when those interested like Mr. McCoy and Mr. Gallup, help out by the use of the cars.

All of which leads up to the fact that you can help the boys next week by taking a load to Portville where you will be assured a game worth the trip.

The next home game is a week from to-day (Thursday), Oct. 27, when Eldred will be here.

Pierce-Arrow Co. Opens Branch At Bradford, Penna.

The Pierce Arrow Sales Co. of Buffalo have opened during this week a branch sales and service station in St. James Hotel Building at Bradford, Pa.

In an interview with Mr. Wheeler, manager of this branch he reports that the number of Pierce-Arrow cars sold during the past few years in Bradford and the surrounding territory warrants an establishment of this nature. He states that it is his opinion as well as that of the company he represents, that the success of the automobile business of the future will depend more than ever on service rendered and the word Service, to the Pierce Arrow Company means real and conscientious attention to thePierce owner's needs, not only immediately after the new car is delivered but assistance just as long as the car is in operation, and service rendered by a capable and efficient service organization. Mr. Wheeler has with him in this capacity a factory trained expert and expresses the thought that the satisfaction which Pierce-Arrow owners in his territory have formerly enjoyed will be accentuated by the materialization of his present plans.
